How Are Member Fees And Number of Delegates Calculated?

Your organization's 2026 membership fees use the fee structure that applies to your organization type. Member fees are calculated based on the official membership (individual members) of your organization. Multi-level organizations pay an additional administration fee for each branch beyond the first. Official membership determines how many votes your organization has and therefore how many delegates or proxies it can send to the Annual Meeting of Members.

On the following page, review the four organization type boxes to confirm which fee structure applies to you, then fill in the calculation table with your administration fee and member fee totals. Add both amounts together to get your total remittance amount. Select your payment method (e-transfer or mailed cheque) and arrange for your total to be paid.

How Your Number Of Votes (Mandaty) Is Calculated

- Single Level Organizations: Member organizations with at least 15 members get one vote. Organizations with more than 25 members get one additional vote for every 25 members beyond the first 25.
- Multi Level Organizations: Each branch with at least 15 members gets one vote. Branches with more than 25 members get one additional vote for every 25 members beyond the first 25.
- Youth Organizations: For recognized youth organizations, only members who are 18 years old or older count for purposes of assigning votes. The same rules above apply regarding number of votes.

If you're unclear on how to fill out the calculator, email us at general.secretary@kpk.org and we'll be happy to confirm your total fees and votes (mandaty) for you.
